It's the Final Countdown!

Dear Parents, Guardians and Students,

The start of the final installment of our school year always allows me to reflect on the past year; on how students have grown both in technique and as people. It is such a joy to see the friendships that have blossomed throughout the year, as well as to see how students have improved and progressed in their classes. We are busy preparing for our Student Presentation at the end of March and the big end-of-the-year Spring Production in May. Students are working incredibly hard so they can showcase all they have learned over the year for their family and friends.

I ask every parent to read carefully the website, calendar and rehearsal schedule. We are entering a time of great preparation and importance for the students, so they can be prepared to perform at their best ability for their dear family and friends. It is imperative for students to attend classes and all the rehearsals to ensure they will look their best while on stage.

I hope that everyone has enjoyed their year here at my studio and will continue classes in our summer program and next school year.

Sincerely,

Abigail Francisco
Artistic Director
